

In this site we provide some of the panels and some of the used fotos of the exhibition for media coverage. These pictures are free to use as far as they are used in the context of media coverage on the projekt "The Third World in World War II". To get the high resolution pictures please right click at a picture and chose "save target as..." (or similar)

Panel with title of the exhibition
(Source: recherche international e.V.)

African soldiers of the British colonial Army

(Source: Imperial War Museum, London)

1939: Colonial soldiers from Africa in French trenches
(Source: S.I.R.P.A., France)

August 1944: Local porters for the Allies at the front-line in the mountains of New Guinea
(Source: National Archives, U.S. Army Signal Corps)

(Colonial S.M.P. from Africa) in winter 1944 in Northern France

North Pacific 1944 (Charles D. Sommers) (top) liberation of Guam from Japanese occupation

Paris (Geraldine) with the Million March (bottom) Rejection of the anti-Semitic laws enforced in Algeria by the (Daeng Gwan) (bottom) Comfort women abducted and abused by the Japanese Military at the age of

---

Resident of the President Islands on the President Islands, Kennedy live of John F.

Goldsmith has written a book about the forgotten liberators of the Pacific War. It's a story of men and women from third world countries who fought for the Allies.
Photos from South Africa: □

May 1940: Recruiting of Cape Corps volunteers
(Source: Department of Defence Documentation Centre, Pretoria)

Reinforcement of the Cape Documentation Centre, Pretoria)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

British soldiers from the 1st Airborne Division in the North African desert

South African soldiers of the 2nd Cape Mounted Infantry Centre, Pretoria)

The Guardian, 10.11.1941 - Soldiers demand post-war security

South African Field Marshal Sir Jan Smuts addressing soldiers in North Africa

Walter de la Rivecourt, President of the Ex-Servicemen's Club in Cape Town

...ational e.V.)

... Tobruk, North Africa), Dennis Norman Marthinus (trompet

... participated as driver in the battle of Sidi Rezegh in North Africa)